Projects

Hatchways Students Assessment | October 2021 | https://atena-hw.vercel.app/

This is the Hatchways assessment project I have solved, using React. I have a plan of improving it in the near future using Redux for the last part of it.

To-Do-App | July 2021 | https://atena-todo.vercel.app/

A basic to-do-app created with React, Bootstrap, and JSON Placeholder API. It fetches a list of to-do items from the backend and displays them in cards after the first render. Users can filter the list, add a new item to the list, edit and delete existing items.

Dental-App | July 2021 - Present | https://atena-dental.vercel.app/home

This is a project got from a friend of mine who has a dental clinic. I have used Figma to design the UI, and React, Bootstrap, Sass, and React Strap to implement this project. The idea is to have a responsive web application that allows the users to navigate through the pages to find their needed information, read and write google reviews in the Testimonial section, make a phone call or send booking appointment requests.

Vidly | August 2021 | https://github.com/atenajoon/VidlyProject

This is a project that is being made by following a tutorial from Mosh Hamedani and I did not do any single part of it on my own. It is being shared here to show the level of my knowledge and understanding of the main concepts, not my personal coding skills.

A SPA for Boulevard Dry Cleaners | Feb 2020

This is my first paid project that I took right after my first course in BCIT. I assessed my client's needs, priorities and business goals to design and provide the content of the web application. WordPress, Elementor plugin, and some CSS was used to make this SPA

I collaborated with a professional photographer to shoot the pictures at the work site, and chose the ones which could deliver the impression of "welcoming professional customer service".

Canadian Work Experience

Freelance Zoom Moderator | Jan 2021 – Present | Vancouver, Canada

- Responded to participant technical problems as they arose

- Managed the polls and breakout room features

- Supported participants that were triggered by the training material

Fashion Associate in Plum & Caposhie Clothing Store | Mar 2019 - Feb 2020 | Vancouver, Canada

- Collaborated with more than 20 customers per day with a diversity of age range from 16 to over 70 years old

- Learned the core values of the company, the characteristics and fabrics of the products to confidently interact with customers and market our products
